Simmons Simmons, Tom Wheadon, Chris Watson : Telecommunications: The Eu Law before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Telecommunications: The Eu Law:

The telecommunications sector in the EU is in a period of rapid change, following enactment of legislation. This is a practical sourcebook of texts with commentary for practitioners, in-house lawyers, consultants and regulators involved in telecommunications in Europe. The authors provide introductions to key elements of the framework, such as: interconnection, universal service, equal access and national regulatory authorities. The book provides immediate, convenient and comprehensive access to the essential provisions that govern and shape the telecommunications industry.

"An invaluable companion in this period of change." -- John Temple Lang, European Commission
