

(Free) The Anatomy of Tort Law

The Anatomy of Tort Law

Peter Cane

**Download PDF / ePub / DOC / audiobook / ebooks*

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE

#5608300 in Books Hart Publishing 1997-06-19 Original language: English PDF # 1 9.21 x .55 x 6.14l, .84
#File Name: 1901362094288 pages | File size: 33.Mb

Peter Cane : The Anatomy of Tort Law before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Anatomy of Tort Law:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. The anatomy of tort law By Federico De Lorenzo It is an excellent view of the tort law. This book is an introduction accessible for anyone that won't become immersed in a complex subject like the law of tort. With simple style the writer gets to show how work as a whole the liability system.

This volume sets out a new and theoretically stimulating analysis of the law of tort, reconceived as a system of ethical rules of personal responsibility. It illuminates the fragmentary nature of the subject and the links with tort law's functions.

...Cane is sweet reasonableness throughout . . . Cane says, and shows, that there is much to be learnt by unpacking the various torts and reorganising their elements under the headings of plaintiff's interest, defendant's conduct and what the law does about it... admirably written.. in an easy loping style... very welcome. Tony Weir Cambridge Law Journal September 2002 .the book stands as a statement of an approach to the subject of tort favoured by one of the leading scholars working in the field. On these grounds alone it should be read by every serious student of the law of tort. Keith Stanton Legal Studies September 2002 This book is a valuable addition to legal scholarship. Its strength lies not in expounding the law but in presenting considered reflections about tort law and the place of that branch of the law in the overall legal landscape. Martin Vranken Torts Law Journal September 2002

About the Author For 20 years, Peter Cane taught law at Corpus Christi College, Oxford. Since 1997 he has been a Professor of Law in the Research School of Social Sciences at the Australian National University.