Like it or not, identity theft is here to stay. Identity theft is the fastest growing crime in the country, according to the credit bureau, TransUnion, with almost 10 million incidents a year. Today, all litigants have a duty to request and disclose responsive electronically stored information ("ESI") in their cases. Whether your cases are large or small, identity theft, consumer debt, or some other transgression, discovery issues relating to ESI will have to be addressed and resolved. This ebook is designed as a "nuts and bolts" guide for the myriad of legal and technology issues that need to be addressed in matters regarding identity theft prevention and protection.
