Law School for Me??By George B.I will love it if it works out for me..

The Law School Bible is for anyone who aspires to become a lawyer, but cannot pursue a traditional law school education. Most often, people abandon their dreams of becoming lawyers because of: * Work schedules that prevent them from attending classes on a regular basis * Family commitments that prevent them from attending out-of-town law schools * Tendency to perform poorly on standardized tests such as the LSAT * Low Grade Point Average (GPA) * Incomplete undergraduate credits. * Inability to secure financial resources * Unwillingness to amass enormous student loans As The Law School Bible shows, none of these barriers should end your dreams of entering the legal profession.
