Shelton, Edward Balkovich : The Role of Logic Modeling in a Collaborative and Iterative Research Process: Lessons from Research and Analysis Conducted with the Federal Voting Assistance Program before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Role of Logic Modeling in a Collaborative and Iterative Research Process: Lessons from Research and

Analysis Conducted with the Federal Voting Assistance Program:

The report describes the underlying method of collaborative logic-model development and application and frames the approach in generalizable step-by-step terms, drawing from research and analysis conducted in conjunction with the Federal Voting Assistance Program. The report derives from a more-detailed report that more fully documents both the process and its results, including recommendations, guidance, and organizational change.
