The Unitary EU Patent System (Studies of the Oxford Institute of European and Comparative Law):

This book explores the key substantive, methodological, and institutional issues raised by the proposed EU unitary patent system contained in EU Regulations 1257/2012 and 1260/2012, and the Unified Patent Court Agreement 2013. The originality of this work lies in its uniquely broad approach, taking seven different perspectives - historical, constitutional, international, competition, economic, institutional, and forward-looking - on the proposed EU patent system. It offers an appraisal of the proposed unitary system, from experts in patent law, EU constitutional law, private international law, competition law, and economics, as well as leading figures from the worlds of legal practice, the bench, and the European Patent Office. The unitary patent system raises issues of foundational importance in the fields of patent and intellectual property law, EU law, and legal harmonization. The book will be of wide and enduring interest to academics, policy makers, decision makers, and practitioners. (Series: Studies of the Oxford Institute of European and Comparative Law, Vol. 19) [Subject: EU Law, Patent Law, Intellectual Property Law]

Pila and Wadlow should be congratulated for putting together such an informative and thought-provoking collection. (Aurora Plomer Yearbook of European Law) About the Author Justine Pila is University Lecturer in Intellectual Property Law, Senior Law Tutor of St Catherine's College, and a Research Fellow of the Institute of European and Comparative Law at the University of Oxford. Christopher Wadlow qualified as a solicitor in 1981 and practised with Simmons Simmons in London until joining UEA Law School full time in 2004. He was appointed to a Chair in 2008.
