For the first-time a writer of courage has called the corrupt US family court systems what they are - criminal organized trafficking of children for sex abuse by, largely, elite, rich, white men. What PA AG Kathleen Kane is exposing now in the PA court system is exactly what is happening in Maine with Judge Judge Moskowitz and many other judges. When will DOJ and the FBI open a federal investigation into the racketeering of Maine's judges, prosecutors, cops and child protection staff? How many more lives must be destroyed? Thank you Keith for your courage and your determination not to be silenced. May God bless and protect you. Thank you. By Kindle Customer Following up on his emotionally shattering article, A LIFE SENTENCE * U.S. FAMILY COURTS SACRIFICING MOTHERS CHILDREN' Family Courts Behind an Epidemic of Pedophilia Judicial Abuse, published online by Conscious Being Alliance and spread widely over the internet via mothers' custody websites in 2012. When I read that piece, I realized that Keith Harmon Snow stands as a giant among the very few investigative reporters there who, despite the real dangers of doing so, expose the evil doings of the worst of the worst of our society. He nails the corrupt family court system to the wall once again, in his full-sized expose, The Worst Interests of the Child. Here is a man who stands 180-degrees apart from the kind of men described by mothers' custody attorney Richard Ducote as "breastless men," men who deliberately, maliciously, and relentlessly torment their female ex-partners in the cruelest of ways: by separating her from and harming their children. I happen to know a lot about this topic, as I have worked or interacted with thousands of women who have lost their children under the very same kinds of circumstances described by Keith in this book. The entire book rebounds with truth and resonates with integrity. I read it straight through in one sitting-- that's how strong his message is; I couldn't stop until I got it all. Get it, read it, and weep for this generation's children. 16 of 16 people found the following review helpful. Pretty package containing gritty details about the truth of how family courts operate. By Atlanta Reader Very meticulously researched, beautifully packaged book carrying horrible, timely, essential information for any citizen who believes the justice system needs reform (or in these egregious cases, serious scrutiny followed by outraged action rather)--or perhaps mainly, for anyone who believes our system works just fine as it is. All is not fine. In instances recounted in this book, and which I know apply far beyond its scope, all is the evil opposite of fine. This is not theory--it's hard hitting facts told in the author's insistent, passionate yet soundly journalistic prose. Keith Harmon Snow cuts right to it--please, please take the time to read this book and share it--widely--with others. #weneedtoknow

Keith Harmon Snow's meticulously documented investigation into sex-trafficking of children by American judges is not to be missed. This scandal is one of the most important censored stories in our country today. I might not believe what Mr. Snow has written if I had not independently investigated two dozen cases not discussed in his article, and found ample evidence of the precise dynamics he lays out for us here. Anyone who says they care about child welfare needs to learn what is happening in family courts and take action until it is stopped. Once you start reading this exposé, you won't be able to put it down. Lundy Bancroft Author of Why Does He Do That? History's largest-selling book on domestic violence

"It is a national scandal that family courts systematically fail to protect children from physical and/or sexual abuse by a predatory parent. What is equally scandalous is the silence of the mainstream media to cover the issue... With luck, when reporters like Keith Harmon Snow shine a light on the grave injustices taking place in family courts, Americans will be filled with a sense of responsibility and take action to protect children from family court abuses." --Garland Waller Producer, No Way Out But One "If you are facing the Family Law or Dependency Courts, do not enter until you have read this book by Keith Harmon Snow. We won my daughter's case and protected my grandchildren with the help of the article that led to this book." --Lori Johnson, Los Angeles About the Author KEITH HARMON SNOW is an international award-winning journalist, photographer and writer who has worked in 45 countries. He is the 2009 Regent's Lecturer in Law Society at the University of California Santa Barbara, recognized for over a decade of work contesting official narratives on war crimes, crimes against humanity and genocide. Graduating a Bachelor of Science magna cum laude and Master of Science in Electrical Engineering, he worked for GE Aerospace Electronics Defense Laboratories in classified U.S. government aerospace and defense programs from 1985 to 1989. A former staff writer and photographer for the Japan International Journal, his works appeared in major Japanese newspapers including the Yomiuri Shimbun and Asahi Weekly, and his travel features have regularly appeared in Wingspan, the magazine of All Nippon Airways. In 2000 Mr. Snow worked at the International Criminal Tribunal on Rwanda, and from 2004 to 2007 he worked as a journalist accredited with the United Nations Observers Mission in Congo (MONUC), as a human rights investigator for Genocide Watch, and as genocide investigator for the United Nations in Ethiopia. He has worked as an independent journalist and human rights investigator in Afghanistan (2006) and Mongolia (2008). In 2011 Mr. Snow testified at the International Court of Justice in Spain regarding the war crimes, crimes against humanity and genocide committed by the high officials of the Rwandan Patriotic Front/Army. Mr. Snow has also provided expert testimony in U.S. Department of Homeland Security refugee asylum hearings, and at a special U.S. House of Representatives hearing on genocide and covert operations in Africa. Mr. Snow is persona non grata in Rwanda and Ethiopia, and in 2009 he was banned for life from Smith College, Mt. Holyoke College and Hampshire colleges for questioning a Smith College professor who has advanced the false U.S. state department narratives on genocide and war in Africa. Mr. Snow spent four months investigating corruption and trafficking of children and families in U.S. Family Courts for this book. In 2014 he testified before the Connecticut Task Force to Study Legal Disputes Involving the Care Custody of Minor Children. Mr. Snow is also a professional tree climber who teaches recreational tree climbing and tree climbing for arborists in Williamsburg, Mass. In 2015 he completed his certification by the Grof Transpersonal Training as a facilitator of Holotropic Breathwork TM.
