Matthew S. Cornick : Using Computers in the Law Office, Loose-Leaf Version before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Using Computers in the Law Office, Loose-Leaf Version:

Succeed in your course and in your career as a paralegal with USING COMPUTERS IN THE LAW OFFICE. Focusing on how computers can make you more productive on the job, this bestselling text offers comprehensive treatment of computer concepts, including coverage of both basic software programs like Word, Excel, and PowerPoint, to more advanced applications using AbacusLaw, CaseMap, Clio, DiscoverFY, HotDocs, Tabs3, TimeMap, and TrialDirector. Real-life examples, pertinent tutorials, ethical considerations, and up-to-date coverage of the most popular software used in all types of legal organizations help you develop key knowledge and skills. Each topic is presented in a clear and organized manner and includes examples of how the software is actually used on the job. The detailed Hands-on Exercises include Basic, Intermediate, and Advanced assignments to allow for a variety of skill levels. These extensive exercises allow you to apply your knowledge and practice using computers to complete realistic legal work. This edition reflects the ever-changing rules and decisions affecting the legal process (gathering evidence, managing files, filing with courts, working on electronic copyright issues, presenting exhibits, billing, etc.) and covers the most up-to-date technology available to help you comply with new rules and better handle complex records and files.

"The strengths are the availability of the software, and the lengthy trial periods; the step by-step hands-on exercises, and the readability of the substantive material." "Top 3 general strengths: 1) The text is written in a way that the reader is not bored or gets lost; 2) the step by step instructions in the workbook are easy to follow; and 3) the textbook covers a wide area of the legal field." About the Author Matthew S. Cornick, J.D., is a graduate of the State University of New York at Buffalo and the Emory University School of Law. He has been teaching civil litigation, legal research, family law, and introduction to law and ethics to paralegal students for over 20 years. Mr. Cornick frequently speaks to paralegal associations and law firms on the topic of technology in the law office. He has served on the Approval Commission to the American Bar Association's Standing Committee on Paralegals and is the author of A PRACTICAL GUIDE TO FAMILY LAW, USING COMPUTERS IN THE LAW OFFICE, and advanced and basic editions of that text.
