In Youth and Post-Conflict Reconstruction: Agents of Change, Stephanie Schwartz goes beyond these highly publicized cases and examines the roles of the broader youth population in post-conflict scenarios, taking on the complex task of distinguishing between the legal and societal labels of child, youth, and adult.

An ambitious and detailed study of a vitally important issue, this book offers significant insights about youth in conflict. Timely and very well written, Schwartz has successfully synthesized a number of different variables, theories, cases, and policy areas, into a compelling and useful analysis. This book will be of interest to students, scholars, NGO personnel and policymakers worldwide. (Siobhan McEvoy-Levy, Associate Professor, Dept. Political Science and Director, Peace Studies Program at Butler University)About the AuthorStephanie Schwartz is a senior program assistant at the United States Institute of Peaces Center for Mediation and Conflict Resolution and heads USIPs Youth and Peacebuilding Working Group. Her scholarly interests include youth involvement in conflict resolution, peacebuilding, refugees, and social change in conflict environments.
